The humble Address of the Mayor, Bayliffs, and Burgesses of the Borough of Berwick upon Tweed, in Guild assembled.

Dread Sovereign,

AS a due Sense of the many and inestimable Blessings we enjoy under Your glorious Administration, can never be too deeply imprinted on our Hearts; so we cannot but think we should be wanting to our selves, if we did not with the utmost Gratitude acknowledge them.

Your Majesty has been graciously pleased to communicate to Your Parliament, the Terms on which Peace may be restored to Your Dominions, which is a convincing Testimony of Your Royal Condescension, and an unparallel'd Mark of Your Esteem for Your People.

We cannot be insensible of the great and many Difficulties that Your Majesty must necessarily Encounter, in a Work of so weighty and important a Nature; and therefore we think it our Duty to implore, that the same good Providence that hath remarkably blest Your Arms with Success, during the course of the War, may so guide and direct Your Majesty, and Your Councils, in the present Negotiations, that a Peace may be accomplished on such Terms as will render the Protestant Succession in the most Illustrious House of Hanover (which Your Majesty has so much at Heart, and on which our Welfare so much depends) compleatly Secure, fully satisfie all your Allies, what they can in Justice or Reason expect, improve the Trade and Commerce of Your Kingdoms, and establish their future Tranquility on a safe, honourable and steady Foundation.

May Your Majesty live many many Years, to enjoy the blessed Effects of such a Peace, with what other Happiness and Felicity Earth can afford: May Your Subjects be capable of no other Contention, than who shall out-do each other in Loyalty and Affection to Your Majesty's Person and Government, Zeal to the Protestant Interest, and Love to their Country: And may Your Majesty, whensoever it shall please God to afflict Your People with the Loss of so good a Sovereign, in lieu of an Earthly Crown receive a Heavenly Diadem, shall ever be the Prayers of Your faithful and dutiful Subjects.

The following Address from the Burgh of Aberdeen, was presented to Her Majesty by William Levingstone, Esq; their Representative in Parliament.

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Magistrates and Town-Council of the Burgh of Aberdeen.

May it please Your Majesty,

THE grand Design of an expensive and bloody War being a safe and honourable Peace, we should certainly be very much wanting in our duty, not to congratulate Your Majesty upon the promising views thereof.

And considering Your Majesty's gracious and repeated Declarations of a deep Concern for the Quiet and Happiness of all your People, and particularly Your Royal Design, towards securing the Succession in the Protestant Line as settled by Law in the Illustrious House of Hanover.

We cannot but upon these, in the most sincere manner, acknowledge the great Wisdom and Goodness of God, in preserving Your Majesty after the Death of your Royal and Glorious Predecessors, and that not only as the great support of the religious and civil Interests of Britain and Ireland, but also as the grand Hope of all the Reformed Churches.

Upon all which we most cordially pray, that God may signally Bless Your Majesty with a long and happy Reign; and so direct and influence Your present great Negotiations, as to produce a sure and lasting Peace, Glorious to Your Majesty, Establishing the Protestant Religion, and Prosperous to all Your Majesty's Subjects. May it please Your Majesty, Your Majesty's most Faithful, most Humble, and most Obedient Subjects and Servants.

Which Addresses Her Majesty received very graciously.
